BIOGRAPHY

Kenneth Peter Page (known as Peter Page) was born in 1934, the youngest of eight children of English-born Victoria Page. Growing up in the years following the Great Depression, the family moved often, living in places from Port Lincoln to Adelaide to Sydney, Perth, West Australian country towns and Whyalla before returning to Adelaide. He obtained the position as a junior draughtsman in the Architect-in-Chief's Department in 1952 and gained a Commonwealth scholarship to the South Australian School of Mines the same year. He studied architecture at the South Australian School of Mines and Industries. He was an Associate of the Royal Australian Institute of Architects in 1958, an Associate of the Royal Institute of British Architects in 1961 and was elevated to a fellow of the Royal Australian Institute of Architects in 1970. He died, aged 82, on 19 September 2017.
